BEST BET OF DAY

Race #6

(3) Jaguar Poz

Conditioner Ron Potts looks to have this horse tight and ready to run. Three solid works, with two of them being bullets. He has run against much stronger in the past, including quite a few Graded Stakes Winners. He looks to get on track tonight here where he is nine of twelve over this strip.

SPOT PLAY

Race # 4

(5) Red Cat (CHI)

Makes a precipitous drop in here coming out of the 1X into this spot. I think that he needed the start and should be tight for conditioner Rory Barron. He is 14/21 here at PID, so we know that he likes the surface. Nathan Vickers won with him at the end of last season, and has the mount again tonight. We should get an honest price on him this evening.
