Race #5

MINI SALA

Mini Sala came in here and Piper Hill gave him all that he wanted, nearing the 1/16 pole Piper Hill looked like he could win, but Mini Sala dug in and repelled that bid. He showed how good a horse that he is, and tonight he gets to prove it again. He is Perfect here at PID and perfect at the distance. A must use in your exotics and a single in your Pick 3, 4, 5, & Pick 6. Daniel Conway Jr. is 90% in the money this meet.

Race # 7

(1) TUDOX EXPECTATIONS

An open Stakes Winner at GP last Winter, he has cooled off a bit. Tried last out in a stake going long, the connections found out that is no his game, so he is back in sprinting today. He should get the needed class relief today in order to be competitive. His type of style fits this race to a T, as we do have a lot of early speed, if a war on the front end develops, he may just be there to pick up the pieces.
