Race #3

(8) SOUPER ENERGIZER

Conditioner Mike Trombetta has been having a solid meet here this year, and is at a 33% win percentage. This son of Hat Trick (JPN) ran a solid second last out at Monmouth and comes back into the MSW here at PID, where he should relish the surface, based on pedigree. This horse has great back class and fits extremely well in this spot, so using him as a single in your exotics is a legitimate play. He will be very short odds against this group.

LONGSHOT PLAY

Race # 4

(6) OUR DOMINATOR

He drops right back into the same spot as last time and looks to get the victory today after having horrific travel problems last time out. Ayala gets the call once again for Conditioner Mike Rogers, and if this horse is anywhere near the M/L I will be thrilled to get that price, but it is looking more like it will be the 4/1 or 5/1 price, which would be ok too. Deep closer, so he will be coming out of the clouds.
