BEST BET OF THE DAY

Race #6

(6) HARD COUNT

He has been absolutely solid here at PID, winning the 1X last out after exiting a very salty Alw Cond race prior to that. Two of the three top finishers in that race came back to win in their next out. He's legit in this event and will most likely be very short odds, so using him as a single in order to develop a strategy on multi-race wagers is a must.

SPOT PLAY OF THE PLAY

Race # 4

(6) A REAL HERO

Dropping out of a very tough SOC $25k at Laurel, this filly by Preakness Winner Exaggerator, tries the PID strip for the first time. A winner over the Synthetic surface at GG, she has tried it on several other occasions, but both of those attempts were in against much stronger competition. She won't face that type of foe today, but must still show up in order to win.
