BEST BET OF THE DAY

Race #3

(2) ROSES for DEBRA

Dq'd last out, this daughter of Liam's Map comes back in the same spot to look even better than before. She gets the meet's leading rider in Pablo Morales, and if she repeats that last effort, (especially the way that she drew off), she is the winner today. I am sure that she learned a lot last race, and that makes her even better today against a very green group of competitors.

LONGSHOT PLAY

Race # 6

(2) IDEAL BREEZE

She did all the dirty work last time out against an absolute beast in American Goddess. Crushing her competition in the race prior to that at Tampa, she is coming right back in the same condition as last race, and looks to make amends today. Jockey Avery Whisman needs to sit off the pace just a little bit today, and if he does he should be able to make his backers happy.
