BEST BET OF THE DAY

Race #6

(5) PROPOSITION

This mare is an absolute monster over this strip, and now she will be back in against her own gender. She can be a little strong headed at times as she was last race, running and gunning on the front end, she ran off last out and was her own worst enemy. If she settles a little bit in here, she should gallop against these fellow foes. She is crazy fast and now with Elia being scratched, she should inherit the lead a lot easier.

SPOT PLAY OF THE PLAY

Race # 4

(3) Happy Bee

Happy Bee exits two extremely tough races in AOC company and it looks as if she may find a little softer spot in this heat. A regally bred daughter of Distorted Humor, she has run well here in the past and this is an emerging sire line over the Tapeta, that has shown an affinity for the surface. Her races here this year were against some extremely tough horses, and the only real threat here is Song of Indy. She will be chasing her to the wire, as she is the early speed.
