BEST BET OF THE DAY

Race #7

(11) CLOUD PLAY

He cuts back to a sprint distance after exiting an off the turf stakes race at Laurel. He's back where he likes it here at PID, with only ever missing the board once out of five starts. He has been solid vs. better in some tough races as of late, including running third to the Track Record Holder, Surly Furious. He get's four scratches today to help out, and if he can hold off K C Rocket, he should get the victory.

SPOT PLAY OF THE DAY

Race #8

(1) JINGLE BELLS

I loved this horse last time out, and I love him again today. He has shown that he can run with better, more expensive horses like Flight to Paradise and Mark the Moose, at big odds, two races back. He came right back to win in his next out as the favorite. This race is void of speed with the exception of possibly one, maybe two horses. That really is the only concern, because this horse loves to come from out of it. His speed figures are superior in this race. Christmas in August???
