BEST BET OF THE DAY

Race #6

(9) *VAVITE

This filly exits a tough N2L $12,500 claimer last out, only beaten 4 lengths in that event for everything, against some tough horses. In addition, she only lost by a half a length by "Up In Arms", while battling her to the wire every step of the way. This horse is versatile and looks as if she can run on most surfaces. She will get class relief today, and should be extremely tough against this group.

SPOT PLAY OF THE DAY

(1) *Mark the Moose

Possibly overlooked in this spot today, as he is moving up in class, but in only against straight NW2. This is a little easier condition than the traditional AOC, so basically speaking he will be running in a softer type spot. He exits a huge effort against Flight to Paradise, who by the way came right back to win again in his next race. The third place horse that day, Jingle Bells came right back to win also. He is legit and you get Rockin' Ronnie in the irons, which is always a plus.
