BEST BET OF THE DAY

Race #5

(7) WROTE IN STONE

This horse drops into the N2L for $12,500 after exiting the same condition for $20k. Alencar comes back as the Pilot for the Boy from County Cork, and if he continues to improve as of late, he is the play here. He has been running against some tough horses in his last few starts, and his speed figures are superior in this spot. His speed is the best of his foes, but Mark the Moose will be pressing him today, if he can hold him off it's all over but the crying.

SPOT PLAY OF THE DAY

Race #6

(9) Crosstown Shootout

This very useful horse drops down to the $13,500 level today after a strong win two back. His last race was the first clunker in awhile, so I am just going to throw that race out, as he wasn't any worse than second in 5 previous starts. The Meet's leading Rider, Morales is back aboard and if he shows his form prior to that last start and his solid tactical speed, he should be right there when they cross the wire.
