BEST BET OF THE DAY

Race #4

(3) STRAIGHT MADNESS

Exiting a solid race last time out, only beaten a half a length, Straight Madness drops in here to the bottom, out of the State Bred 1X. She has been very good at this level when she drops into it. She has great tactical speed, which should work to her advantage in this race, as it looks like she will lay just off the pace. Ayala is back aboard and trainer Mike Rogers knows how to train a Winner.

LONGSHOT PLAY

Race #8

(5) Namarunu (GER)

He's been a stalwart here at PID over the last few years, with 6 victories over this strip. Now 7 years old, and he is still competitive, even though it is at this level. He has never been off the board at this distance (9/9), and it looks as if today will be the same as he adds to his resume. There is enough speed in the race to set up perfectly for him, and if the off the [pace bias from yesterday continues, Conditioner Sydney Rotunno will be salivating like Pavlov's Dogs.
