Best Bet of the Day

Race #4

(6) LITTLEBITALILY

She was in extremely tough in her last out against a horse that I love today, called Riverside Walk (GB). She just couldn't hang in that spot, but she is going to find some class relief in here today. She has to put away Song of Indy, and if she can do that, she will be victorious. Her speed figures are superior to this group, and she has been keeping very good company as of late. Lots to like with this very versatile Mare in this spot.

Spot Play of Day

Race #2

(1) Riverside Walk (GB)

She has been a stalwart here at PID throughout her tenure at this Race track. Only off the board twice out of 13 starts, she has amassed 7 victories over this strip. She gets the meet's leading Rider in Morales and in addition Conditioner Larry Hayes is batting 57% at this Meet. She will be extremely low odds today, so she looks as if she is a single in your exotic tickets.
