BEST BET OF THE DAY

Race #1

(1) DAWGMENTALITY

Conditioner Ron Potts knows this family well, as he also trained half sibling and PID Stakes Winner Jaguar Poz. This horse has a ton of gas in the tank and if he can behave himself today, he should gallop here against these state bred foes. He was very competitive against open company last out and this race looks to be far easier than that last race that he competed in. As I said prior, if he keeps his mind on business, the rest of them will see nothing but his tail.

SPOT PLAY OF THE DAY

Race #3

(5) She's a Threat

This Filly has run well here in her last two starts over the PID strip. A pair of second place finishes at the $6,250 level, and it looks as if Conditioner John Fennessey has this daughter of Temple City (An emerging sire line here at PID) rolling in the direction that she needs to go. She will be coming from off of the pace, and if she gets the bias that we had on the Monday card, she will have a Kodak moment this afternoon.
