Best Bet of the Day

Race #5

(6) DIAMOND DUST

Ran in an incredibly tough spot last race, Diamond Dust will get some class relief in this spot, against lesser today. A monster of a race two back against Petit Verdot and The Sinner is You, he beat both of those beasts in that event and that was no easy task. He has won 3 out of 5 at this distance and has been a solid performer at PID with 6/8 ITM. It won't be easy, as this group is a solid bunch, but he has shown superiority in prior races.

Spot Play of Day

(3) Cheap and Cheerful

A huge race last out at 40/1, only beaten 1 ¾ lengths against a very solid Tap the Tittles. She drops right back into the same spot after that massive effort last out, and looks to get her picture taken today. Trainer John Fennessy, known here as a Giant Killer, seems poised in this spot to be the king of the third race today. This Filly always surprises at big odds, and today looks as if the Public will finally support her at the windows.
