Best Bet of the Day

Race #4

(3) AZTEC PRINCESS

This Filly has been knocking on the door as of late here at PID. Two solid races, running second in each, at this same distance. She is by one of the best Freshman Sires, Sharp Azteca, and he is currently in the top 5 (on the Freshman Sires List). Her speed figures keep improving each race and I love to see that progression, as it shows an improving horse. Looking for a big effort today from this talented Filly.

Spot Play of Day

Race #2

(8) Audrina's City

She is dropping from the clouds in today's, exiting out of that $25k race, and now dropping into the $6,250 against much lesser types. Conditioner John Fennessy knows that he is close to the end of the meet and he is getting ultra aggressive looking for the Winner's Circle. I think that he finds it today with this Filly, and the massive drop in class. Look for her to be short on odds, and looks to be a single in your exotics.
