Best Bet of the Day

Race #6

(2) CHARLOTTE the BRIT

Eddie Rojas made a solid claim here two back for the bargain basement price of $5k. She ran a monster 3rd last time out against a very tough "Proposition", only beaten 2 ¾ lengths. She will drop into a much softer spot in this event and after being competitive in SOC's earlier in the year, Gallardo may find himself on a very live horse today. I am looking for a price on this horse this afternoon, hoping for at least 4/1 or greater.

Spot Play of Day

Race #8

(3) Tudox Roadster

A solid second last time out for twice the claiming tag. She's been tough here at PID against her own kind (PA Bred) and still has been decent in open company. Today she makes this precipitous drop, and looks to be a contender in this spot. She's coming out of a very good barn, and Conditioner Ron Potts knows where to place horses in order to get the victory.
