Best Bet of the Day

Race #4

(3) HONORABLE

This boy loves the front end, and now dropping out of the Starter, way, way down into the lower level claimers, this horse is without question the class of the race. He goes back into a spot where the added distance is an absolute blessing for him. He has run against a ton of better horses in the recent past, including Stakes Horse "Declared" as one example. This race is his to lose, as he is the best of this group.

Spot Play of Day

Race #2

(8) Sheer Alice (GB)

A very big drop here for this filly, coming out of the MCL $15k way down to the MCL $5k. She looks to be a Woman among girls in this spot, especially after that last race, only getting beat a length and a half in that last event. This filly loves the front end and with the "Queen of Speed" being aboard, she will most certainly get her way.
