Best Bet of the Day

Race #5

(7) PRETTY RACHEL

A massive effort last time out against a rapidly improving and accomplished Posh Playday, she ran second to that Foe in a salty 1x. She comes right back into this spot looking like the horse to beat. She is stellar on the Synthetic, 5/6 ITM and 4/5 at the Distance, and her Trainer is literally 100% after being the beaten favorite. It seems that all systems are go with this Charger here in the 5th race today.

Spot Play of Day

Race #3

(3) Digital Footprint

A solid performer at PID even at higher levels, this horse drops back down into a much softer spot than what he has been running for as of late. His resume is strong, running against the likes of Declared, Stevis Man and Pemaquid Pete. There are some good horses in this race, but none of which have been running with the tough crowd that this horse has.
