BEST BET OF THE DAY

Race #8

(2) SONG of INDY

A solid race last time out, finishing third in her 2024 debut here at PID. She looks as if she may have needed a race after weakening late in that event. She should be tighter than two coats of paint, with a Bullet Workout on June 11th, going :58 & 4/5 She has 11 wins over this strip, and no one knows her as well as Conditioner Mike Rogers. It looks as if she will follow the pace of Emerald Citadelle, and pounce late.

SPOT PLAY OF THE DAY

Race #6

(7) CREATIVE CHOICE

Dropping into this spot after a lackluster fifth place finish last out in that salty open $13,500 claimer, he looks for a soft landing in this much easier $5k dated condition race. He won two back against much tougher competition in the SOC, and it looks as if Trainer Lisa Allen is going to aggressive here and jam this horse to get the victory. He gets the same Jock in Alencar to Pilot the ship, so it looks like all systems are GO!
