BEST BET OF DAY

RACE # 1

(4) ELECTROSTATIC

This horse has been outstanding here at PID, making seven attempts and never missing the board in any of them. He's a versatile type, with the ability to go on the engine, stalk the pace, or close from the back. Willie Martinez is back aboard today as the Pilot, and when he and Scooter Davis get together, there is usually a fireworks display. I don't think today will be any different, but he will be chasing the Potts horse, and will most likely pass him late in the game.

(7) R CHELLO

Conditioner Eddie Rojas gets aggressive and drops this horse down to the $7,500 level after competing at much higher Maiden level events. He should find this spot a lot more to his liking, against horses that have much less ability. He gets the Meet's Leading Rider in Gallardo, which is always, an added bonus. He has tactical speed, and will most likely follow the lead of Elusive Change and Imfreefallin, then the tactical speed should kick in.
