Best Bet of the Day

Race #4

# 4 HALON

Halon comes off of a Winter freshening for Team Potts, and finds himself in a much softer spot than his last outing. He showed some brilliance here last year in the Alw 1X on July 8th, against a very tough group that afternoon, finishing third in that event. He's work two bullets since being back here at PID, and the connections feel that this spot will be very beneficial to their cause. A decisive Winner three races back, he looks to do the same again today with this group.

Spot Play of Day

#5 Mistrial Wind

Conditioner Juan Arriagada is very aggressive, to say the least when it comes to placement of his horses. Perhaps that's one of the main components for his success as a Trainer. He brings in this Filly by Adios Charlie, (whom by the way is an excellent Tapeta Sire) and promptly drops her down to the $7,500 level. She ran a big second two races back as the beaten favorite, for a much higher tag, and it looks as if she will find the lesser competition much more favorable here.
