Best Bet of the Day

Race #6

#2 Buck's Howl

A solid win in here last time out for former Trainer Kelsey Danner, Buck's Howl found a new barn via the claim box, and headed to Team Arriagada. Arriagada is 22% first off of the claim, and this horse finds himself in a little tough, facing 3 other horse that have won their last out. He gets first time Lasix, which is always a plus, and now the services of one of the top 3 leading Jockeys in the colony in Izzy Rodriguez. He's perfect 1 for 1 at the distance, tough assignment but looks solid in this spot.

#1 Au Courant

She was rolling last time out in the State Bred MSW, coming up short against 'Out in the Cold'. This Filly has seemed to found an affinity for this strip, as last time out marked her third different racetrack in that many attempts, being the best that she's performed. She will most likely stalk the pace this afternoon, and follow the #5 Mayhem's most likely pacesetting. If she can get a little bit of a speed duel up front, she should be well equipped to handle this event. Gaddiel Martinez aboard today isn't a bad thing either. He's been exceptional this year.
