Spot Play of the Day

Race #2

#7 Cats Gone Estray

My longshot play last time out, that just missed by a neck, is back. The Filly was without question, dismal on the dirt, has literally made a transformation on the Tapeta. We saw her affinity for this strip shine through not only in the morning, but also in her first start on July 22nd. She looks poised to be the play today and if she can get a cleaner trip, she should rundown probable front runner Hot Gamer.

#5 Starlit Sky

With the defection of Lazy Y Legacy, Starlit Sky looks to get the easy of tasks to complete today. Claimed four races back by Ron Potts for $15k, he is going to continue to cut bait and jam this horse, after just missing by a nose at this price point. Irod is back aboard for Potts, and it looks as if you can single this one in your horizontal wagers. The absolute best on paper here in this race.
