Best Bet of the Day

Race #4

5 NO TAPPIN OUT

A very significant class drop here, the Connections are looking to salvage a victory before the end of the meet. The horse without question has been running against much better than who she is facing today, with the likes of A Case of You, Sweet Nola and Time For an Angel. She was competitive in the SOC's this year, and with that being said, she should find this field a much easier task to defeat. You get red hot Rider Taylor "The Lioness" Kingsley aboard as the Pilot today.

Spot Play of the Day

Race #2

1 Fur Elise

She is exiting out of a PA Bred MSW event, where she ran a mediocre race. She's been running against much better in her entire career thus far, and now Trainer Ron Potts has decided to get ultra aggressive and drop this Filly to the bottom. A far lesser group than what she has been running against, her chances are far greater here. With plenty of speed in the race, this Daughter of Solomini looks to be able to make a strong closing move and get the candy in this event.
