Best Bet of the Day

Race #7

#7 KANAZAWA

Looking for win #3 in a row, this Arriagada charger has thrown up some very solid speed figures over this strip. Only two of the horses in this race have accomplished single digit Thoroughbred numbers, this aforementioned horse and Jenadriyah. Kanazawa looks to be the lone speed of this race today, and if he is not assaulted on the front end, he may just run away and hide. He boasts a very good record here being 4/5 ITM with three victories, and of those wins, he has two of which at the distance.

#4 Espresso Bay

He exits out of a mediocre performance last time out at PEN over the turf course in Grantville, but today he returns back to the place where he won his last race. Looking like the lone speed of the race, he looks to make amends for two straight average races. On paper it would appear that Hightail Fox will be the odds on favorite, but what is interesting is that Espresso Bay beat him three races back. You get a Bug that is ripping
